Foreword

As time goes by, we shall always remember and cherish these our fondest memories of Gamewell High: the time which our principal and faculty has devoted to us-----the scramble for classes at the 8:35 bell-----scatter-brained Freshmen-----discouraged Sophomores-----the continuous feud between Juniors and Seniors-----those four long hours 'til lunch-----trembling knees in Dramatics-----slaving over a budget-----butterfingers in Home Economics-----and English for us all-----chapel every other week-----that short, short activity period-----three teachers patrolling the hall-----keep to the right-----pep rallies before the big game-----long trips to Charlotte, Chapel Hill, and Tri-High-----Annual Staff Meetings-----wonderful football-----Gamewell High 56, Harmony High 0-----the starry eyes of our Homecoming Queen-----our beauties in the Christmas Parade-----storeworkers (red noses and cold hands)-----school paper every month-----rushing for the door at 3:15-----anticipating victorious basketball games-----class parties-----Senior-Parent Banquet-----Football Banquet-----Junior-Senior-----planning our trip to Washington-----practicing the graduation-----the final walk down the aisle to the realization that our school days are over-----.

Time is not measured by minutes, hours, and days, but by happiness. This is how ours have been measured. Time goes by.

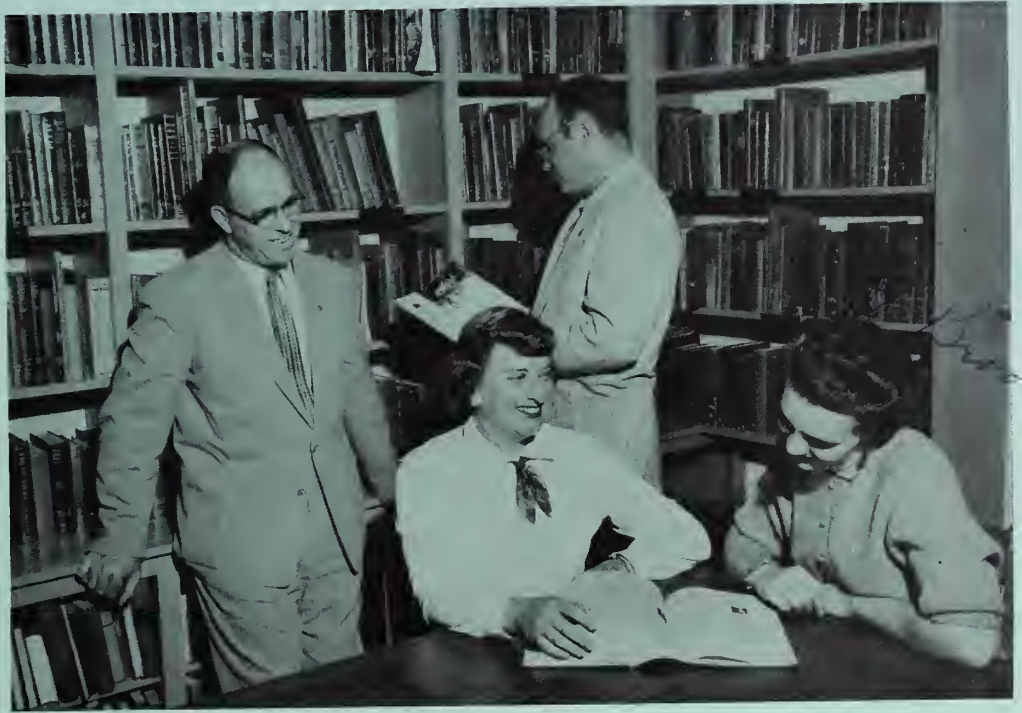

Time out for a coke-break.

Classes are not always as dull as they may seem.

Even our faculty find it necessary to brush-up occasionally.

Rivalry at its height.

Joint participation in a group activity.

Just one of those days!

When the cat is away, will the mice play?

Something funny on the Bulletin Board?

Our dependable president.

Emily gets dumped!

Keep to the right--which is the right?

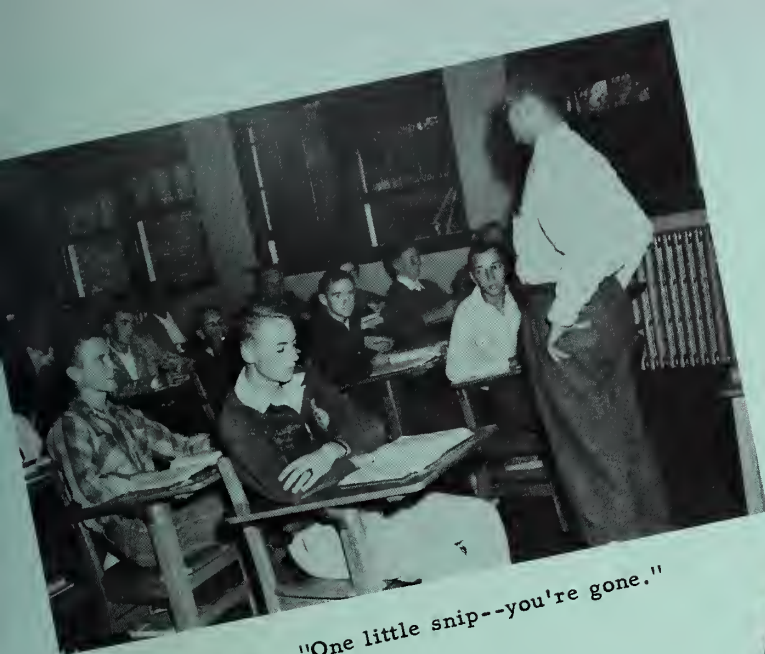

"First come, first served."

1. Personality is portrayed by the correct attire.

2. Parties for every occasion.

3. Ready for the big night.

Setzer: "One little snip--you're gone."

Diligently working at the bulletin board.

Freshmen soon become adjusted to high school life.

Activity period provides time for relaxation.

"Hit'em again, hit'em again, harder, harder!"

Dedication

R. Kesler

We, the Senior Class of 1957, dedicate this, the eighth volume of The Eagle, to the faculty in appreciation for their understanding ways. For four years, they have encouraged us to be better students and citizens. We would like to thank them for their faithfulness to their profession, for their guidance, and most of all for always being themselves.

"Experience is the best teacher" may be a true axiom. Our faculty strives to impart their experience and knowledge to us students. They instill us with the idea that to be a real person requires more than mere acquisition of the fundamental use of the three R's.

"Scared" freshmen, "eager" sophomores, "settled" juniors, and "distinguished" seniors have applied to all of us at some time during our high school days. While each class is individualistic in keen competition and class programs, they are combined in activities and fundraising projects, making "one for all" for Gamewell High.

The stop watch is important in our lives at Gamewell. Gamewell like every other school takes a large part in sports. While participating in sports we learn as much as we do in the class room. Most important we learn the value of sportsmanship. What would a team be without teamwork, the right winning and losing attitude, and cooperation on the part of the players? A reflection is cast by the way a school supports its athletic teams. In time, the same reflection can be seen in the people who took part in sports at Gamewell High. The time clock will stop once more for some of our players, but, the hands of time will move around for others.

Time outside classroom is as important to us as the time spent inside. Here is where we learn the finer aspects of life. Thoughts of our banquet, our homecoming activities, and other social events leave us with many happy memories. Later, in our older years, these memories will provide us a pleasant cushion as we nod by the fire.
